Mr. Peabody, who returned to England last week by the Scotic, was asked by some of his friends whether he would stand as a candidate for President of the United States, He declined, on the grounds that he valued his health, that he liked England, and the climate suited him, that he was fond of salmon fishing—and, in short, he begged to keep clear of American politics. The portrait of the Origon ave.

almired. It was some time ago announced that Mr. Peabody had destroyed 4,000 begging lct-cans, and which he had found it impossible to answer. By Mr. Peabody's request this disposition of the letters wasmade known by the press broughout the United States; but so far from its relieving him of similar applications, he now receives as many of them as ever, there having been sent to him, in addition to other corresletters, the writers of all of which are anxious to relieve him of surplus money, or else to get for themselves lucrative posts as teachers or agents, to be paid out of the Educational Fund with
